

SID DAVIS

This former airline worker hilariously unloads side-splitting baggage on stage. Sid's humor is fueled with A.D.D., a wavering ego, and a grade school teacher wife who views him as a child left behind.

Sid has shared the stage with Craig Shoemaker, Jon Reep, and Craig Robinson from "The Office". You've heard him on Sirius Comedy Channel's broadcast of the headliners showcase from the Ventura Comedy Festival.

Sid has appeared with Brad Garrett at Brad Garrett's Comedy Club in Las Vegas, and is a regular guest on the Bob and Tom Radio Show. Sid was voted "Best in Fest" at the 2012 San Luis Obispo Comedy Festival. He's a major player in the comedy community's fight against Breast Cancer, participating in the Susan G. Koman, "Laugh for the Cure" tours and the Canadian Boob Tour.

As award winning author, Steven Kunes, wrote in a review; "Mr. Davis has the ability to transform everyday events into hilarious comic literature. He's the Mark Twain of our time."
